

A black silhouette of a city skyline is centered against a white background. The most prominent feature is a tall, slender spire with a pointed top, resembling the Transamerica Pyramid. The spire is filled with white text. Below the spire, the words "GOODBYE" and "GIRL" are written in a large, white, serif font. The letters of "GOODBYE" are arranged in a slightly curved line, and "GIRL" is positioned directly below it. The overall composition is a stylized graphic design.
